

Workstream Employee Discount

Improving Employee Satisfaction and Productivity

The Workstream Employee Discount Program is a low cost, high value work/life offering employers can extend to their employees. By providing discount programs, employers are acknowledging the need to support their employees' life outside of work and making their employees' lives easier, saving them time and money. The Workstream Discount Program brings employees everyday savings on a broad array of product and services. With over 200 nationally recognized brands and thousands of better than retail offers, employees will appreciate the savings they get on merchandise, travel, and personal services from merchants such as Dell Computer, FTD.com, Sharper Image, Hickory Farms, hotels.com and Disneyland.

With Workstream Employee Discount Program, employees will:

- Save money
- Save time
- Be more satisfied at work

Key Workstream Employee Discount Features & Benefits

Discounts available anywhere, anytime

Workstream's Employee Discount Program can be accessed through a web browser anywhere and anytime. This enables employees to shop outside of work – at night or during the weekend – so that they are saving money all the time.

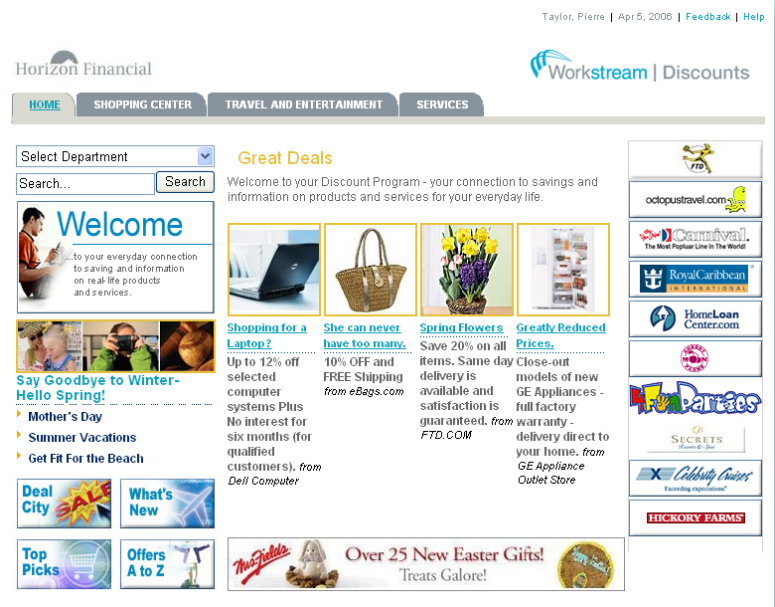

The Workstream Employee Discount site is password-protected so that the employee's privacy is completely secure. Discounts in program are available all year round and special offers are made throughout the year to save employees even more money.

Coordinate all discount offers in one centralized location

The Workstream Employee Discount Program is the one-stop-shop for employees to save on everyday items, as well as luxury goods, financial and travel services. Workstream actively recruits new marketing partners and negotiates discounted rates for Workstream customers. These special deals are made available to all employees in the discount network. Companies can also negotiate "local" deals and post their company-specific discounts on the Workstream Employee Discount site.

Fully hosted solution minimizes site administration and internal IT costs

The Workstream Employee Discount Program is designed to be virtually maintenance free. After the initial implementation, the only administration required is posting local deals. Built in online reporting allows companies to monitor program utilization and find out what discount offers employees access most.

Ongoing program support helps employees realize benefits

Workstream supplies on-going communication, such as monthly client awareness pieces and employee surveys, to help companies promote this valuable benefit. In addition, employees can contact Workstream's customer support using a toll-free number should they have questions or encounter problems using the Workstream Employee Discount Program.

Easy integration into related applications

The Workstream Employee Discount Program can be easily integrated into related applications and processes, such as the Workstream TalentCenter and Communicator knowledgebase applications, which deliver personalized information and advice to employees based on work and life events.
